I-System College Students Undertake Community Service Project

KUCHING: On the 13th of October 2023, a group of 22 dedicated students from Early Childhood Education (ECE) program who are currently enrolled in the community service course, embarked on a meaningful community service project at Lions Nursing Home. This undertaking was not only a part of their course requirement but also a significant opportunity for them to engage with their community.

The objective of the project are dedicating students' times as a volunteer, expand network and boost students' socials skills with people surround them, stimulating the interest of students to individuals who are respectful to eldest in future and cheering the lonely elderly with cheerful activities.

Accompanied by a dedicated lecturer from the community service course, the students worked in harmony to fulfil the needs of their coursework.

Before the community service project started, they had opportunities to visit the male and female wards, as well as the physiotherapy room. The physiotherapy staff welcomed our students and provided a short briefing about the specific treatment for the elderly. At the same time, the students engaged in conversations with the elders who were receiving regular therapy. Additionally, one of the students had the opportunity to use the stroke equipment, and the staff provided valuable information to the student about the importance of conducting the treatment every day.

This interaction provided valuable insights for both the lecturer and students, as they gained knowledge from the professional physiotherapist.

After visiting all the departments, the community service project began. The students cleaned the outdoor area, performed general cleaning around the residents, tended to the plantation area, and cleaned the windows in the organization's lobby area. Before returning to the main campus at I-System College, they had a group photo session and exchanged souvenirs with Chairman Lions Nursing Home and the staff management.

Through these activities, all the students gained knowledge and learned about organizational skills, teamwork, planning, problem-solving, and task management. This experience also educated them about societal needs and helped them establish contacts and friendships.

In conclusion, community service is not only about fulfilling academic requirements; it also plays a pivotal role in strengthening bonds with the community and collectively making it a better place for everyone to live. Our students recognize this and are committed to contributing positively to their surroundings.

Therefore, i-Systems College firmly believes that such programs significantly enrich students' learning experiences. We would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Lions Nursing Home for their invaluable support toward the I-System College Community Service Program.
